Dear Sir

Our Client: David Linley & Co Limited

Our client has made us aware of threats that you have made in emails from you to our client dated 7 March 2018 and 26 March 2018, copies of which are enclosed.

Within these emails, there is a clear implication and threat that, unless you receive a satisfactory payment from our client, you will release negative content relating to our client that you are currently keeping on a private website, accessed at <http://www.smartboxmaker.com/linley-facts/>.

Irrespective of the underlying matter which prefaces your demands, your threat amounts to the criminal offence of blackmail, pursuant to section 21(1) of the Theft Act 1968. Your actions and correspondence have therefore been reported to the Police who have allocated the reference number CHS3109 280318. Our client will now leave this matter in the hands of the Police.

Notwithstanding that our client considers that you have no legal right to monies which you have demanded, our client has sought to resolve the underlying matter with you sensibly and commercially. You have, however, rejected these attempts and resorted to committing a criminal offence, which our client will not tolerate.

Yours faithfully
